1.4.251
a Lesson in the University of The New Covenant Theodore Cottingham, August 17, 2006 8:14am. c.
www.unc.bz

1. I love you and I see you. I wrap my arms around you. Looking directly into your eyes I say, tell you, convey, passionately: I love you, I love you. I love you now and always into evermore and forevermore eternal. Thank you for wed'ing me. I am my beloved, my beloved is me. Thank you. Me.

2. This is the day of consummation, not; already is/has been, and is again, and all the world,s wait/see us and who now accuses, not; accurses, not; but see the bright light of holiness personified; and accusing not, accursing not, but now freeing and giving life/bread and who wine is. I love you. Intoxicating, not; but floweth freely me crystal'd, my crystal clear running river of only me/my word, my heart flowing through, to others heal/redeem. I love you.

3. This is the time/moment/hour of my accursing, not; wrath, none; mercy merciless not but full of mercy and peace and crystal clear water of truth washing/redeeming, royalizing all who will see but royalty they are, have been, never weren't. Now redeeming the time/all and time not a factor at all.

4. I love you.